

Associate Professor Lan Luh Luh

Subject Coordinator
for Company Law

Associate Professor Luh Luh Lan teaches corporate law, corporate finance law and securities market governance at the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore. Her research interests span areas such as ESG and directors' duties, and her work has been published in various leading academic journals, including Journal of Corporate Law Studies and Harvard Business Review. She is the author of the award-winning book, Essentials of Corporate Law & Governance in Singapore. A former Academic Director of the UCLA-NUS EMBA and Board Member of ICGS, she actively contributes to legal scholarship, policy consultation, and executive education. She is currently the subject coordinator for Part A Company Law. She holds an LL.B. and Ph.D. from NUS and an LL.M. from Cambridge.

Professor Kumaralingam Amirthalingam

Subject Coordinator
for Criminal Law

Kumaralingam Amirthalingam is a Professor at the National University of Singapore Law School. He obtained his LLB and PhD in Law from the Australian National University and he researches in selected areas of Tort Law (specializing in medical negligence and economic loss) and Criminal Law (specializing in public prosecutions). He teaches both these subjects as well as a Master's course on Business Torts. Kumar has served as Vice Dean of the Law School and Chair of the NUS Teaching Academy. He is on the International Advisory Board of Medical Law International and Editorial Advisory Board of Medical Law Review. He was seconded to the Attorney-General's Chambers for two years as Senior Director (Research & Policy) and Deputy Public Prosecutor, and he has served as Amicus Curiae in the Court of Appeal and as expert consultant to the Ministry of Health and Ministry of Law.

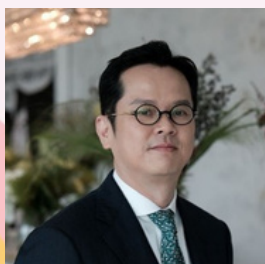

Associate Professor Chen Siyuan

Subject Coordinator
for Evidence Law

Siyuan specialises in evidence and procedural law. He has published more than 150 works and he has been cited by the Singapore High Court, Singapore Court of Appeal, Singapore International Commercial Court, Indian Supreme Court, and the Law Commission of England & Wales. Siyuan also directs SMU's International Moots Programme; his teams have won major competitions such as Jessup, Vis East, Price, Lachs, ICC, and Frankfurt.

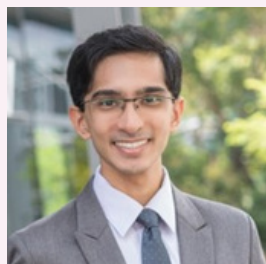

Professor Tang Hang Wu

Subject Coordinator
for Land Law

Tang Hang Wu is Professor at the Yong Pung How School of Law and Associate Provost (Research Governance) at Singapore Management University where he researches on the law of property, wealth management, charity and non-profits and equity and trusts. He has published widely and his work has been relied regularly by all levels of the Singapore courts and other Commonwealth jurisdictions. In addition to his academic work, he is often instructed as Counsel and expert witness by Singapore and international law firms.

Assistant Professor Benjamin Joshua Ong

Subject Coordinator
for Singapore Legal System

Benjamin Joshua Ong is an Assistant Professor of Law at the Yong Pung How School of Law, Singapore Management University (SMU), where he has been a faculty member since 2017. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Arts (Jurisprudence) and Bachelor of Civil Law from the University of Oxford, and has been called to the Singapore Bar. In his research work, he focuses on constitutional and administrative law in Singapore and Malaysia; he also writes about criminal procedure. He teaches courses relating to public law and governance to law students and social science students at SMU.

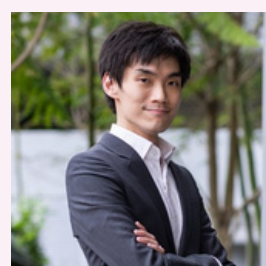

Assistant Professor Lau Kwan Ho

Subject Coordinator
for Singapore Legal System

Lau Kwan Ho is an Assistant Professor of Law at the Yong Pung How School of Law, Singapore Management University (SMU). Prior to joining SMU, he was a Senior Associate at Allen & Gledhill LLP and a Justices' Law Clerk with the Supreme Court of Singapore. He also worked as in-house counsel at the Government of Singapore Investment Corporation (GIC). Kwan Ho's main research areas are in contract law and private law. He writes as well on judicial decision making in the common law and on the development of the legal profession. His work is cited by courts in Singapore (High Court and Court of Appeal) and Hong Kong (Court of Appeal), by sitting Commonwealth judges in extra-judicial speeches, by regulatory bodies, and in academic treatises and articles regularly. He has given expert evidence on Singapore law in foreign court proceedings. Between 2021 and 2024 he served as the Deputy Director of the Centre for Commercial Law in Asia."

Associate Professor Kenny Chng

Subject Coordinator
for Singapore Legal System

Kenny is an Associate Professor of Law at the Yong Pung How School of Law, Singapore Management University (SMU). His research focuses on constitutional and administrative law.

Kenny has publications in leading academic journals in his areas of interest, including the Law Quarterly Review, Legal Studies, Public Law, the International Journal of Constitutional Law, Judicial Review, the Journal of Private International Law, the Civil Justice Quarterly, the Hong Kong Law Journal, the Asian Journal of Comparative Law, and the Singapore Journal of Legal Studies. His work has been cited with approval by the High Court of England and Wales as well as the Singapore Court of Appeal.

Kenny is currently reading for a DPhil in Law at the University of Oxford with the support of the Yong Pung How Fellowship. His DPhil work is on judicial review and administrative policies. For exceptional academic performance on the DPhil, he was awarded the Senior Hulme Scholarship by Brasenose College, University of Oxford. Prior to beginning his DPhil, he completed his LL.M. studies at Harvard University as one of the first-ever recipients of the MOE-START Overseas Postgraduate Scholarship. At Harvard, he received the Dean's Scholar Prize as the top student for the Public Law Workshop. He also graduated with first class honours from the SMU Yong Pung How School of Law.